

Solid leadership is the foundation to any successful unit. It takes well trained leaders to foster unit growth, mentor Scouts, and provide a positive Scouting experience for everyone involved. To be successful, a leader must continually find ways to improve themselves through on-going and frequent training. Through education, leaders are able to increase their ability to make Scouting fun with a purpose. Scouting is about the Scouts. And better trained leaders learn all they can to make it a rich and worthwhile experience.

Every Scout deserves a trained leader.

Vision: To improve the quality of the program delivered to Scouts and increase the overall Scouting experience through encouraging leaders to view training as a continual and on-going exercise by way of recognition.

“Success in training the boy depends largely on the Scoutmaster’s own personal example.” – BP

Through the Super Trained and Super Trainer awards, leaders will be recognized for their outstanding efforts at self-improvement resulting in stronger leadership and units. Additionally, the awards will be used through “positive peer-pressure” for untrained leaders to become fully trained, and eventually Super Trained.

Better trained leaders make better leaders.

The Super Trainer designation recognizes those few leaders that have gone above and beyond to ensure that as many leaders as possible are equipped to best lead Scouts in their respective units.

“The most important object in Boy Scout training is to educate, not instruct.” – BP

Each unit type has requirements and electives appropriate for their respective position. The first awarding of the honor is signified by the Super Trained and/or Super Trainer patch to be worn on the bottom of the right pocket, with the appropriate device bearing the unit type symbol to be placed on the patch.

The following worksheets list the requirements and electives required for each unit type. Upon completion, the form is to be submitted for approval to your District Training Chair at which time it will be reviewed. The patch and certificate will be awarded at the next District Roundtable. The public recognition and awarding of the Super Trained and Super Trainer patch will serve as encouragement for other leaders to achieve the award.
